Exploring and presenting liberated and distinctive work through voice and movement

Leeds based dance artist James Jackson & voice
musician Maria Jardardottir

Invite you to
'ohm bou e'

@ The Riley Theatre, the Northern School of Contemporary Dance, Leeds
Saturday 13th June 2009
7.30pm

ohm bou e derives from a series of guided, creative exercises encouraging the performers to engage and explore movement and sound utilizing their bodies as holistic tools for expression. The source for their expression originates from their individual inner worlds relating to one another in the here and now.

The work is presented as part of the EDge '09 tour by the post graduate company of the London Contemporary Dance School Resident at The Place.

The repertoire includes original full length works by Jeremy Nelson (award-winning former dancer of the Stephen Petronio Company), H2 Dance's Hannah Gillgren and award winning Slovenian choreographer Andreja Rauch Podzavnik (formerly of Charles Linehan Company).

EDge will also present a selection of shorter works created specifically for the company by up-and-coming dance artists Jesus Rubio Gamo, Javiera Peón-Veiga, James Jackson and Maria Jardardottir.

“This month’s improvisation exchange will be led by J&M’s James Jackson and Maria Jardardottir; The nature of the workshop will be stimulated by the individual’s creative process of exploring and cultivating their own expression through voice and movement. The practice of J&M’s work often displays a rawness which is liberating and distinctive. The work questions the individual’s comfort zone and boundaries and challenges the safe versus the unstable.”
